The minimum number of classes and months are based on a 3 class per week schedule. If you attend more than 3 classes per week it is possible to have the minimum number of classes before the minimum time in grade but, you must still meet the minimum time in grade requirement before being recommended for testing. It is also possible to have the minimum time in grade, but not meet the minimum number of classes because you attended less than 3 classes per week. In order to test you must meet the minimum requirements in both classes and time in grade, and you must also be recommended by a black belt.
